

PROTEST "RIGHT TO WORK" BILL—A crowd estimated at 5,000 persons, presumably made up largely of union workers, gathered before the Indiana State House at Indianapolis, to protest a controversial "right to work" bill passed by the legislature. Barring an unexpected veto by Indiana's Governor Harold W. Handley, the bill, which would forbid the firing of any worker who refused to join a union, would make Indiana the first big industrial state to have such a law on its books, once it takes effect March 5. Seventeen other states have enacted such laws. (NEA Telephoto)

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

THE WEATHER is always a good topic to talk about; so let us discuss precipitation a bit.

Got some rainfall figures from Harrison Kibler, and will attempt to expand them into a story of sorts.

Harrisburg rainfall measured a strong 4.20 in January, a month in which there was precipitation on 11 days and in which the largest fall, 1.33 inches, came January 22.

The February measurement was 3.60 inches, with rain during nine days of the month.

That gives up a total of 7.80 inches of rainfall during the first two months of 1957, which is nearly an inch above normal.

Normal for January in Harrisburg, according to U. S. Weather Bureau data, is 4.11 inches in January and 2.71 inches in February—or 6.82 inches for the two months. Normal rainfall for a year in Harrisburg is 43.46 inches; so we have 35.67 to go to be normal.

In case you'd like to compare rainfall figures for the past six years in January and February, here they are:

Year	Jan.	Feb.
1956	1.61	4.98
1955	0.54	2.46
1954	4.44	2.47
1953	3.11	.99
1952	2.92	3.88

So you can see that except for the year 1954 and this year, rainfall has been below normal the past six years. In 1954, the weather was about as near normal as weather can be without hitting it right on the dot. The total that year was 6.91 and normal is 6.92.

Greenville authorities picked up the broke, hungry and homesick girls outside a Western Union office as they awaited a reply to their telegram.

The three had been missing since last Wednesday when they decided on the spur of the moment to take

Autos Collide On Route 34

Automobiles driven by Phillip Dale Weaver, Harco, a student at Southern Illinois University, and Sandra Sue Fowler, Galatia high school student, collided Sunday at 3:15 p. m. on highway 34 two miles east of Galatia.

According to information from State Policeman Adolph A. Sweat, the car driven by Miss Fowler passed the Weaver car and then turned into a driveway and was hit broadside by the Weaver car. Both cars were traveling east.

Both autos ran into a ditch following the collision and were extensively damaged. Weaver suffered only a bump on the forehead and Miss Fowler a cut on her eyebrow, besides shock from the accident.

In the Weaver car was Marlene Edwards Southern Illinois Uni. student, and with Miss Fowler were Brenda Starkey, Delores May and Nancy Peyton, all Galatia high school students. None of the others in the cars was injured.

Miss Fowler was given tickets for failure to signal for a turn and for right of way violation by State Policeman Sweat.

Albion Couple Die of Injuries

Fatally Hurt

In Auto Accident

On Illinois 130

ALBION, Ill.—A man and wife, who three weeks ago observed their golden wedding anniversary, died as a result of injuries in an automobile accident here Sunday.

Dead are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hedge, 72 and 69 years of age, respectively.

Injured in the accident is Mrs. Rebecca Lou Galloway, 23, of Evansville, Ind., who was taken to an Olney hospital. She has a possible fractured skull and severe lacerations that came when her head was driven through the windshield of an automobile driven by her husband, George W. Galloway, who was but slightly injured.

The accident occurred on Ill. 130, a mile and one-half south of here, in front of the Hedge home. As the Hedge car swung from the highway toward the lane leading to the home, it was struck by the Galloway car, Illinois State Trooper Charles Peters, who investigated, stated.

The crash occurred at 10:05 p. m. as Mr. and Mrs. Hedge were en route home from attending services at M. Zion church.

The Galloway car was bound for Albion where Mrs. Galloway was to visit her mother.

The Hedges were sent to Baptist hospital in Evansville. Mrs. Hedge was dead on arrival and Mr. Hedges died at 4 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Hedge are survived by a son, Glen, of Albion.

Coal Prices To Be Increased

NEW YORK (AP)—Soft coal produced in southern mines will be raised 25 cents a ton on April 1, when an 80-cent-a-day wage hike for miners goes into effect.

The price boost was announced by Appalachian Coals Inc., marketing agency for southern mine operators.

Trade sources said northern producers probably will announce a similar price hike.

Elsewhere along the price front, Inland Steel Co. raised prices for its railroad steel items by $4 a ton. This follows similar moves by other steel companies. Affected are rails, tie plates, joint bars and track spikes.

Interlake Iron Corp. announced a $2 a ton increase in the price of pig iron, reflecting higher costs of iron ore and coal.

Land Too High

Possibility of New State Park In This Area Probably Eliminated

The possibility of a new Illinois state park in this area, with a large lake and other recreational facilities, has been reduced materially and probably eliminated due to apparent excessive values placed on the land involved.

The current budget of the Illinois Division of Parks and Memorials in the Department of Conservation includes money for development or improvement of state recreational facilities. The Department had expressed to Senator Glen O. Jones more than a casual interest in a new park in this area.

The firm of Hurst-Rosche, engineers of Hillsboro, Ill., was employed to make a survey, and after looking over the various possibilities in the Saline county area, a spot south of Rudement appeared most practical. About 600 acres was involved.

Though a formal report has not been made, it is indicated that David Rowe, representing Hurst-Rosche, was impressed by the area and the possibilities of a large lake to be built at minimum expense for a dam and spillway.

However, preliminary conversations with land owners in the area indicate that the price asked for the land is so far above what the state has paid for land for similar projects in other areas, that the Saline county site will receive no further consideration.

Some of the land offered tentatively was offered as low as $30 per acre and other was priced at well within the price range which might be expected, but other prices were so excessive that the entire land cost would be completely out of line.

It is likely the amount tentatively budgeted for this area will go to a development in another part of the state where the project may be carried out within the budgetary limits.

Starved to Death

Find Body of Four-Year-Old Girl In Closet of Unfinished House

BELLMAR, N. J. (AP)—The apparent starvation death of four-year-old Mary Jane Barker whose body was found Sunday in the closet of an unfinished house caused conflicting theories among authorities today about her disappearance.

A playmate found Mary Jane's fully clothed body, huddled alongside a puppy, six days after she disappeared from her home, less than two blocks away.

An autopsy showed that the blonde, blue-eyed girl had not eaten since leaving her home to go out to play last Monday. She was last seen several hours later playing with the puppy, which belonged to six-year-old Mary Freitta, who found the body while visiting the new house with an aunt and uncle, the owners.

No Marks Of Violence

Camden County Coroner Robert J. Blake said there were no marks of violence on Mary Jane's body, nor any indications of sexual molestation.

A spokesman for the coroner's office expressed the opinion that the child had wandered into the closet, become trapped, and then died of fright and starvation. But Police Chief Edward Garrity stressed that his men had searched the house at least three times since the child's disappearance. Garrity said he was "almost positive" that searchers had checked the closet.

The police chief said indications were Mary Jane had only recently been placed in the closet.

Although the door was unlocked, police said it had only a thumb screw inside, making it difficult to open—especially for a child.

Puppy Still Alive

Suffocation also was advanced as a possible cause of death, but a physician attending the autopsy said he believed Mary Jane died from a lack of food.

The puppy, which appeared in good condition, was to be examined today to determine when it had last eaten. Neither searchers nor workmen had reported hearing any barking or whining while in the house last week, police said.

Discovery of the child's body climaxed an intensive week-long search by police and volunteers who had combed this South Jersey town.

Action is 'Act Of Faith' in United Nations

Premier's Decision Will Be Announced To Israel Parliament

By United Press

Premier David Ben-Gurion today ordered Israeli forces to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba areas "as an act of faith" in the United Nations.

The order was transmitted to Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israeli army chief of staff, who met with Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the United Nations Emergency Force, to complete plans for the withdrawal.

Burns was on his way from El Arish, UNEF's Gaza jump-off base, to UNEF headquarters in the Suez Canal Zone when Dayan sent message requesting a meeting. Burns flew back to El Arish and then took another plane to Lydda Airport at Tel Aviv. He arrived at 9 a. m. CST and met with Dayan to begin charting the actual takeover.

Ben-Gurion planned to make his formal announcement of the withdrawal to the Israeli parliament Tuesday.

Today's announcement followed a hectic weekend during which Ben-Gurion fought off opposition at home and sought further clarification of U. S. views from Israeli representatives in Washington and New York.

Official sources said the Israeli cabinet's decision was based on a message from President Eisenhower to Ben-Gurion early Sunday.

Arab League Objects

In parliament, Ben-Gurion faces a motion of no-confidence introduced by the Herut opposition party. In effect, Ben-Gurion has gone against a probable majority of Israeli public opinion to withdraw from the disputed areas. If he does not survive the parliamentary vote, he will not be able to enforce the withdrawal decision. He was expected to win it, however.

The nine-nation Arab League in Cairo informed the United States it opposed United Nations administration of the Gaza Strip and enforcement of freedom of navigation in the Gulf of Aqaba. Both are key assumptions in Israel's decision to withdraw.

Anne Endsley Commended by Scholarship Group

Anne Endsley, senior at Harrisburg Township high school, has been commended by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for distinguished performance in its nationwide search for students of unusual ability, according to Principal Ellis Henson.

Miss Endsley has been named a state runner-up in the 1957 Merit Scholarship competition. Robert Jones, H. T. H. S. senior, has been reported previously, is a finalist in the competition.

"Miss Endsley is among the top one or two per cent in ability in the state of Illinois," John M. Stalnaker, president of NMSC, stated. "While she did not quite reach the finals of the 1957 Merit Scholarship competition, her unusual promise deserves recognition."

As a state runner-up, she will receive a letter of commendation for use in applying to the college she wishes to attend.

The National Merit Scholarship competition provides the largest system of privately financed scholarships offered in the United States.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Drew Pearson says: Rivals to teamsters want to win back power in Portland, Ore.; Senate investigation used by underworld figure; both sides merit exposure.

Washington. — Sen. McClellan's investigating committee is doing an important job of exposing teamster racketeering, some of it, incidentally, reported by this column beginning April 30, 1956.
However, the Senators aren't giving the full story on the Portland, Ore., underworld.

When McClellan called big, gum-chewing Jim Elkins as his prize witness, it was known that Elkins had something of an underworld history, but it wasn't known how much of a history, nor was it mentioned that he is out to elect city councilman Stanley Earl as next mayor of Portland.

Big Jim is also bent on retaliation against the elements that knocked him out of the pinball machine racket, namely the teamsters. They deserve retaliation.
But one untold sidelight is that Big Jim and his friend, Stanley Earl, would not be averse to using the McClellan hearings as a publicity megaphone to help take control of the city of Portland.

Earl, now a city councilman, is assuming the role of a reformer.
Truth is, the city councilman began his career as a bouncer in one of the Elkins brothers' after-hours joints, once was jailed for strong-arm tactics in union activities, Oct. 8, 1942, in Spokane; and wrote a strong letter trying to get a pardon for Big Jim Elkins after Elkins was thrown into an Arizona jail for assault with intent to kill.

This is the man who is helping turn the spotlight on the teamsters. They deserve the spotlight.
But so does the other side. And here is the further record of the other man, Big Jim Elkins, who is exposing the teamsters and who wants to make his pal, Stanley Earl, mayor of Portland.

A SORDID RECORD
The Senate committee treated Elkins gently, making only hurried reference to his sordid background. The fact is that he has a three-page record for everything from attempted murder to dope smuggling. His first rap was for stealing a car back in 1920. Later he branched out into burglary and dope smuggling. Federal agents picked him up in 1932 for attempting to smuggle Heroin into the country. While out under bail, he was surprised by police in the act of burglarizing a warehouse in Gila County, Ariz. Elkins and his accomplice shot their way out of the police trap but were captured two hours later. Elkins got a 20-30 year term for assault with intent to kill, was paroled in 1936, but promptly tossed back in the clink for getting mixed up with a gang of warehouse thieves. The next year, he was released into the custody of his brother, Fred, on the pledge he would keep out of Arizona.

Big Jim went to Oregon, where he was arrested for Armed Robbery involving the removal of slot machines. This ended in a gun fight with the intended victims, and Elkins was wounded in the shoulder. At the trial, the witnesses against him failed to show up. One was quoted in the newspapers as saying, "I was run out of Portland at the point of a gun."

On Sept. 11, 1938, Elkins picked up a shipment of Heroin at the Portland Railway Express depot after which federal agents picked him up. This landed him in Leavenworth, where he resided until 1940. Back in Portland, he resumed his underworld activities.

WOULD LEGALIZE PINBALLS
Big Jim is now under indictment on a long list of counts for alleged wire-tapping and underworld activity.

Of all Elkins' connections, the big untold story is his tie with city councilman Stanley Earl. This is the part the Senate committee isn't telling about in its probe into Portland racketeering. They have been close for years. Starting as a bouncer for the Elkins brothers, Earl worked his way up in the CIO, was sent to Korea as a U. S. labor representative, got back before the Korean war, began devoting himself to Portland politics and was elected to the city council in 1952.

At the time of his election, his friend, Big Jim Elkins, bossed Portland's pinball industry, along with other underworld enterprises.
Pinball machines were supposed to be illegal, and one of Earl's first acts after becoming a councilman was to propose Legal pinball machines.

TEAMSTERS MOVE IN

Meanwhile, the teamsters began moving in. Their excuse was a drive to organize workers who handled pinballs. This Elkins saw as a move to squeeze him out, and at first he tried to make a deal. He even applied for membership in the teamsters. But he was turned down, and the union notified him that if he persisted in operating his machines, it would put him on the unfair list.

This amounted to an ultimatum to Big Jim to get out and tell his machines to someone the teamsters would accept. He bowed.
His machines were sold to Stan
Terry, Teral Wright, and Lou Dunlap.

But lo and behold, no sooner had Big Jim quit the pinball business than his friend, Councilman Earl, came out against them. With sudden righteousness, he attacked pinballs as a vicious gambling device.

Big Jim tried to go into the punchboard business. A short time thereafter, Councilman Earl introduced an ordinance to modify the ban on punchboards.

This is part of the other side of the coin brought out at Senator McClellan's very important hearings.

CONSTIPATED?

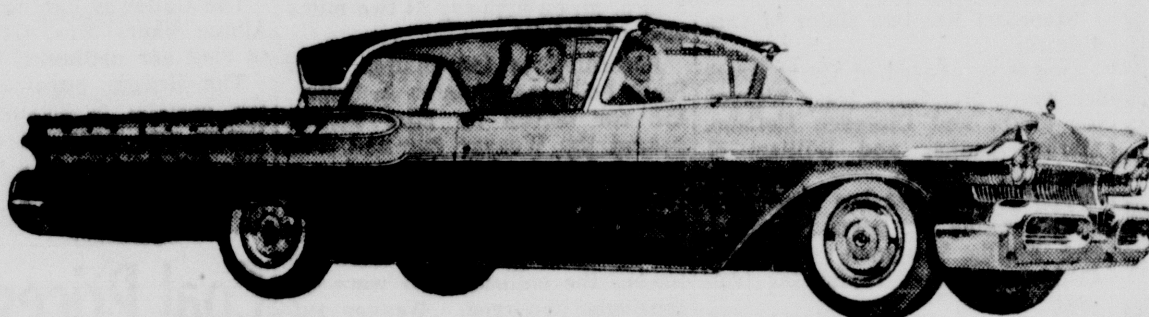

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrift" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to stimulate it to contract and act; to a normal urge to purge.
And, of all laxatives, only COLONAL, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAL's great moisturiz-ing capacity, plus COLONAL's stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation over-

Candlelight Home Bureau Discusses Good Grooming

The Candlelight unit of the Saline County Home Bureau met Wednesday, Feb. 27, at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Bill Keen. There were thirteen members present.

Roll call was answered by "How I Became Interested in Home Bureau."

The business was conducted by Mrs. James McGowan, vice-president. After the usual business procedure, tentative plans were made for a spring party for the members and their husbands.

Mrs. Harold Hansen and Mrs. John Slightom had charge of the program entitled "Achieving Style in Dress."

Mrs. Slightom discussed good grooming and desirable habits, which are the basic requirements for a well-dressed woman. Emphasis was especially stressed on such things as cleanliness, good posture, good health, a pleasing personality and a clothes sense and how to achieve each of these.

Mrs. Hansen discussed design in clothing and a review of some of the basic rules for design were mentioned. After this a preview of the new spring colors and styles were shown.

After this the group was divided into three groups and each demonstrated some one thing that had been brought out in the program earlier. This proved to be very enjoyable as well as helpful.

The minor lesson, "Pruning Small Shrubs and Bushes," was presented by Mrs. Earl Clark. Some timely tips on how and why to prune shrubbery was mentioned.

Mrs. Keen was assisted by Mrs. Joseph Hollingsworth and Mrs. Harold Hansen.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Roy Thompson.

Lobbying Groups to Attend Hearing Tuesday to Oppose Bill to Register

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — Lobbying groups will get another chance Tuesday to fight a bill requiring them to register and file expense reports if they spend in excess of $500 to influence legislation.

Lobbyist registration bills have been introduced—and defeated—at past sessions. But the pressure for such a bill is considerable this session because of one angle of the two-million-dollar Hodge scandal.

It has been disclosed that J. Roy Browning, a lawyer friend of former State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, was hired to lobby for a bill passed in the last session which permitted the Union Electric Co., St. Louis, to dissolve its Illinois subsidiary and serve Illinois customers through the parent company, thus escaping Illinois franchise taxes.

A federal grand jury is investigating evidence that Browning's $35,000 lobbying fee actually went to Hodge.

Sen. William J. Lynch (D-Chicago), one of the sponsors of the Union Electric bill, introduced the lobbyist registration bill and steered it through the Judiciary Committee without hearing any opposition from lobbying groups.

But when the bill got back to the Senate floor with a recommendation that it pass, 10 civic, farm and business groups, which lobby in the Legislature, asked for a new hearing on the bill by the full Senate.

They complained that the bill "goes beyond" what is needed to keep a check on lobbyists who now have only one restriction on their activities: They cannot go on the chamber floors to influence legislators.

Representatives of the lobbying groups said privately they did not attend the original hearings to oppose the bill because they feared they would be subjected to unfavorable newspaper publicity.

But they will oppose the bill at the Tuesday hearing.

Besides the Senate bill, there are two other similar lobbyist bills before the House, which have not yet had committee hearings.

The 10 groups which asked for the hearing and objected to the bill are the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, the Illinois Agricultural Assn., the Illinois Manufacturers Assn., the state Chamber of Commerce, the Chicago Civic Federation, the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, the Associated Employers of Illinois, the Illinois Insurance Federation, the Taxpayers Federation and the Illinois Bankers Assn.

Five Killed in Plane Crash

SEATTLE (U) — The bodies of five persons killed in the crash of an Alaska Airlines DC4 Saturday night were brought out from rugged Olympic Peninsula foothills Sunday.

The plane crashed only 18 minutes before it was scheduled to land at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport. A Coast Guard helicopter found the wreckage early Sunday, about 50 airline miles northwest of here.

The plane last was heard from Saturday when pilot Larry Currie of Seattle, flying in "reasonably clear" weather, radioed he was over Dungeness, Wash., a standard check point for inbound Alaska flights. He gave no indication of trouble. The plane crashed minutes later.

The other victims were identified as co-pilot Lyle Edwards, Seattle; Stewardess Elizabeth Goods, Robin, Man.; and passengers Leroy Kelly and Constance Reppert, Fairbanks, Alaska.

Senate Committee Approves Brennan Appointment

WASHINGTON (U) — The Senate Judiciary Committee today unanimously approved President Eisenhower's nomination of William Joseph Brennan Jr. to be a Supreme Court justice.

Eleven of the 15 committee members were present for the vote. The action sent the nomination to the Senate floor for action by the Senate itself.

Brennan, a Democrat, is a former justice on the New Jersey Supreme Court. He was appointed by Mr. Eisenhower to succeed Justice Sherman Minton who has retired.

Hearings on the Brennan nomination featured charges by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) that Brennan conducted a "guerrilla" campaign against congressional investigations of communism while at the same time making speeches against communism.

Airman, Son, 2, Die in Auto Crash

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (U) — A Chance Air Force Base airman and his 2-year-old son were killed late Sunday night along with another airman in a head-on collision near Rantoul.

Airman L.C. Lavon Deynolds, 27, Burnsville, Miss., and his son Curtis, died when their car collided with one driven by Airman 2.C. Robert A. Fish, 29, Mason, Mich.

Reynolds was returning to his home after taking his wife to the base hospital for delivery of their second child.

Four other airmen, all riding with Fish, were injured in the crash.

Four Parachute From Disabled B25; Pilot Killed

FRANKTOWN, Colo. (U) — A pilot was killed Sunday night when he parachuted from his disabled B25 medium bomber near Franktown, about 30 miles southeast of Denver, but the three other members of the Air Force crew parachuted to safety. One was injured.

Ivor Remington, a rancher, and his wife said they heard "a loud explosion." They drove to the scene in a jeep and picked up three survivors.

They said Lt. James D. Plath of Denver, the pilot, was alive when he got to him, but he died moments later.

The survivors were Lt. Edmond F. Murray of Denver, a pilot instructor; T-Sgt. J. J. Bouten, the crew chief, and M-Sgt. G. A. Mack. All are stationed at Lowry Air Force Base at Denver. Murray's ankle was injured.

The plane was en route from Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex., to Lowry in a heavy snowstorm when the pilot radioed he and the crew were abandoning the plane because of engine trouble.

Ex-Commissioner Named Water Supt. At West Frankfort

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (U) — The West Frankfort City Council has named a former commissioner as city clerk and superintendent of the water and sewer utilities.

Tom Griffin resigned as commissioner to accept the new posts. The City Council has the power to name a successor to Griffin as commissioner.

Griffin succeeds former City Clerk Alex Smothers, who resigned to take another job. In another recent change, former Mayor Luther Burpo, who was a candidate for state senator last November, was named city treasurer. He succeeds John C. Kirk, who resigned because of illness.

Hearing on Bill Raising Residence Requirement for Aid

SPRINGFIELD (U) — The Senate Public Welfare Committee set a hearing today on a bill to raise to three years the Illinois residence requirement for receiving general relief.

The present residence requirement is one year, and the bill is aimed at cutting relief costs on the theory that the low residence requirement attracts to Illinois persons who wind up on relief.

The House Public Aid Committee will hold a hearing on a similar bill that would raise the residence requirement to two years on Tuesday.

Both houses of the Legislature had only perfunctory sessions set for today, and the Senate Public Welfare Committee's hearing was the only real business on the calendar.

Actress June Allyson Is Hospitalized

HOLLYWOOD (U) — Actress June Allyson was under treatment for a "severe" case of bronchial pneumonia today at the UCLA hospital.

The tiny, soft-voiced film star, who recently separated from actor Dick Powell after 11 years of marriage, was admitted to the hospital Sunday. Her doctor described her case as "severe."

Doctrine Only a Beginning in Solving Problem, Truman Says

OMAHA (U) — Former President Harry S. Truman Sunday night called the Eisenhower Doctrine "clearly an emergency reaction" which is only a beginning toward solving the problems of the Middle East.

Mr. Truman described the Middle East situation as a danger "that is now of the most threatening proportions" due to relations between Israel and the Arab states which he said "are based on suspicion and violence."

He spoke before Beth Israel Synagogue, which presented him with its "Man of the Year" award for his efforts in helping establish Israel as a state.

Geneva School Inmate Admits Strangling Girl

GENEVA, Ill. (U) — A 16-year-old inmate of the Illinois School for Girls Sunday night admitted strangling another girl prisoner because she "had an urge" to kill.

Geneva police officer James Seamon said Sheila Grubbs of Chicago confessed killing Faith Ann Fry, 13, of Decatur, in a special disciplinary cottage where they were confined.

The girl's body was found shortly after noon Sunday by a matron and a guard making a routine check, Seamon said.

He said the Grubbs girl told authorities, "I just had a desire to kill her."

Miss Mary Shaughnessy, superintendent of the school, said the Fry girl had been placed in the "adjustment cottage" after she tried to run away two weeks ago. The Grubbs girl was put in with her for causing disturbances in the cottage where she lived.

Kane County Coroner Victor Peterson said the Grubbs girl knotted a strip of blanket around the younger girl's throat. He said she admitted jumping on her body and sitting on the Fry girl while strangling her.

$75,000 Pledged In Early Reports For Wesley Building

CARBONDALE, Ill. — More than $75,000 in cash and pledges toward a new Wesley Foundation building adjacent to the Southern Illinois University campus in Carbondale was reported today by Ronald Seibert, Foundation director.

He said this represents partial reports from about 25 of the 270 Methodist pastoral charges in the Southern Illinois Methodist Church Conference where a "crusade" to raise $260,500 for the new Foundation building is underway.

"We are encouraged by this response Seibert said, "because it represents only partial reports from some of the smaller pastoral charges at the end of two weeks of campaign reporting. Crusade workers in many of the larger churches have not yet sent in their reports."

The proposed Wesley Foundation for serving the spiritual, moral, social, and religious education needs of nearly 1,000 Methodist students at SIU, will provide a chapel, classrooms, recreational facilities, office and counseling quarters, and a student lounge and reading area.

Order State Senator To Halt Interference With Sale of Estate

ROBINSON, Ill. (U) — A Federal Court injunction has been served on an Illinois state senator forbidding him from allegedly interfering in the disposition of the estates of his parents.

The injunction order was issued by Federal Judge Casper Platt against Sen. Herschel Green, a Republican, of Crawford County.

The estates consist of large farm properties in the northern part of Crawford County. The property was owned by James Allen Green, who died in 1935, and his wife, Martha, who died in 1942.

Green was trustee of the estates for several years. The current trustee, Edward Turner Jr., is selling off the property to satisfy claims against the estates.

Platt, in his injunction order, found that Green "has placed signs upon the trust premises, sold estates without the knowledge of the trustee thereof, and has notified the trustee . . . to keep away from the trust properties."

James Plaster, 86, Dies at West End

James Plaster, 86, died Sunday morning at his home in West End. The body was taken from the Courtney funeral home in Galatia to the family home to lie in state Sunday afternoon.

Services will be Tuesday at 11 a. m. at Pleasant Valley church east of West End. The pastor will officiate assisted by Rev. Clifford Sullivan and interment will be in the church cemetery.

Mr. Plaster is survived by his wife, Bessie; two sons, James Ross Plaster of Odessa, Mo., and Lloyd Edward Plaster of Omaha, Neb.; and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Earl McFarland of Thompsonville RFD.

Judge Suspends 10 Years of Hodge Sentence

Will Be Placed On Probation Five More Years

CHICAGO (U) — Federal Judge John P. Barnes today suspended 10 years of former State Auditor Orville Hodge's 20-year sentence, but put him on probation for an additional five years.

Hodge, convicted of looting the state treasury of more than two million dollars, was sentenced last August on charges of misapplying federally insured bank funds.

At that time, Barnes said he would suspend 10 years of the 20-year sentence if Hodge made restitution to the full extent of his resources.

At a hearing today, Barnes formally suspended 10 years of the probation and ordered Hodge on probation for five years after he completes the 10 years he is serving.

Barnes acted on the recommendation of probation officers who reported that Hodge had cooperated in efforts to repay the state.

The judge said the suspension and probation was on the "expressed condition" that Hodge continue to cooperate. He turned to a state prison guard and said: "Will you see that Mr. Hodge gets a copy of that order?"

Hodge, thinner and visibly nervous, had to wait 25 minutes for his case to come up. He wore a dark blue suit and red necktie, and appeared ill at ease.

But he told newsmen he is "feeling better" and after the hearing he expressed relief at getting the suspended sentence.

In a previous probation hearing in January, Barnes charged that Hodge was "not cooperating" in making restitution and he gave the ex-state auditor more time.

Hodge and his wife had agreed to turn over their estimated one million dollars in property to the state when Hodge was sentenced. Later, Mrs. Hodge filed suit to have the agreement set aside on grounds part of the property was her separate estate.

As a result, the state has recovered only about $25,000 of Hodge's estate.

Salt Water from Oil Wells Pollutes State Game Farm

SPRINGFIELD (U) — Salt water pollution from oil well operations has forced the State Conservation Department to haul 2,000 gallons of water daily to its game farm south of Mount Vernon, it was announced today.

Conservation Director Glen D. Palmer said the oil well operations polluted the 15 acre lake which supplied the water system for the game farm.

He said the pollution was discovered by game farm employees who found dead fish floating on the lake last week. A fisheries biologist found the pollution was caused by salt water draining into the lake from five near oil well storage pits which had overflowed.

Palmer said oil and gas division inspectors were sent to the area and condemned the pits and ordered the oil operators to pump the salt water from the pits into disposal wells.

He said the salt water pollution killed thousands of bass and bluegills and endangered the entire breeding stock from which the year's supply of 150,000 quail chicks is expected to come.

Palmer said the salt water came from two pits on the Willmore and Hicks lease, operated by Fletcher Farrar, of Mount Vernon; one pit on the E. M. Randolph lease operated by Strickland Oil Co., Mount Vernon; and two pits on the S. J. Hicks lease operated by John Carlson, Peoria.

Rescuers Find 3 Former Scouts Lost in Woods

ZEIGLER, Ill. (U) — Three former Zeigler Boy Scouts told their high school classmates today how it feels to be lost in the woods.

A 100-man posse searched for three hours before finding the former scouts who had gone into the Big Muddy River bottoms near Zeigler Saturday on a hike.

The boys, Johnny Prudent, Dexter Harris and Gary Dorris, left home without matches and were unable to start a fire. All the boys are 14 and freshmen in high school. Prudent is the son of Zeigler Mayor Eugene Prudent.

The mayor said the boys "have slight colds. They weren't as afraid as we were," he said.

The boys had attempted to cross the Big Muddy River but were unable to do so because it had overrun its banks. They became lost as they tried to find their way back to a highway.

The boys were preparing to "bed down" for the night when the rescuers found them.

Wildcats - Shawneetown, Eldorado-Ridgway Games To Open Regional

Norris City-Equality, Bull Dog-McLeansboro Tilts Wednesday

The Norris City regional basketball tournament, where three of the four Saline county high school teams will be playing, starts at seven o'clock tomorrow night with Carrier Mills, beaten in only one game this year, playing Shawneetown. The other school, Galatia, will play at Benton.

The past two years Shawnee-town would have been a big favorite in this contest but this year the tables are turned. Although upsets always can happen, the Wildcats from this county are favored to win this game and go on to the championship.

Second game Tuesday night, at 8:30, will find Eldorado facing Ridgway. This should prove to be a very interesting contest because Coach Al Adams of Eldorado will have the task of stopping big 6-9 Roger Suttner, kingpin in the Ridgway attack. Adams comes up with a pretty good zone defense most of the time and fans will be watching to see what will happen.

Bull Dogs Face McLeansboro

Preceding the Harrisburg McLeansboro contest Wednesday night, host Norris City will meet Equality at seven o'clock and Norris City is one of the dark horses of the tourney, having played consistently good ball all year.

The Bull Dogs will face McLeansboro at 8:30 in the last first round game. In one previous meeting Harrisburg won from the Foxes but the McLeansboro team, a veteran outfit, has been up and down all this year and if the boys were up for the tourney, they could be tough.

Harrisburg moved along in fine style in February and should be in good shape for the tournament except for Ray Hassett, who has an injured ankle. Coach John Dotson undoubtedly will use the junior from Muddy but it is inconceivable that the lad will be up to par. The ankle is still weak and is bound to hamper his jumping.

No Reserved Seats

The playing schedule calls for both semi-final games Thursday night, at 7:00 and 8:30, and the single game for the championship will be at 8 p. m. Friday.

The first three nights of the tournament, doors will be open at 4:45 p. m. and on Friday night they will open at 6:45.

Admission will be 80 cents for adults and 50 cents for students with identification slips.

There will be no reserved seats and no advanced ticket sales.

"There will be ample room for everyone wishing to attend the tournament," H. J. Phelps, Norris City superintendent and tournament manager, stated.

The Galatia Bearcats will be meeting Johnston City in the second game of the Benton regional. This meet opens with West Frankfort, favored team, facing Zeigler.

The second night will find Benton vs. Sesser and Christopher vs. Woodlawn.

WEBQ to Broadcast All Seven Games of Norris City Regional

All seven games of the regional basketball tournament at Norris City will be broadcast over radio station WEBQ, it has been announced.

The games, with Ken Hamilton and Elmer Gladson at the mike, will be over both AM and FM, with the broadcasts starting about 5 minutes before game time each evening.

The tourney starts Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Wednesday and Thursday night sessions also start at 7 and Friday night, with only the championship game to be played, tipoff time is 8 p. m.

Galatia, Johnston City Play Tonight At Benton Regional

Galatia, the only Saline county school assigned to the regional tourney to be played at Benton, will meet Johnston City tonight in the second game of the session. Tip-off time is set for 8 p. m.

The other three Saline county schools — Carrier Mills, Eldorado and Harrisburg—will play at Norris City, where action does not start until Tuesday evening.

Tonight's tourney at Benton starts at 6:30 with West Frankfort vs. Zeigler, followed by Galatia vs. Johnston City.

Tuesday's session has Benton vs. Sesser and Christopher vs. Woodlawn, winner of the Waltonville district.

Then will follow one-game sessions for the following three nights, one semifinal game Wednesday, another Thursday and the championship game Friday. Game times for the last three nights of play is 7:30 p. m.

Looking at Sports

BY BILL MELTON

The opening game of the Norris City regional will feature the same two schools that completed the regional at McLeansboro last year.

A year ago at McLeansboro, Shawneetown walloped Carrier Mills 91-70 in the regional tournament championship game.

Tomorrow night at Norris City, Carrier Mills is expected to even the count—maybe with interest.

The 1956 Shawneetown tourney championship squad was wrecked by graduation. Only one of the regulars is back. He is Bob Stewart, a fine ball player. One other getting into the championship game lineup was Delbert Cutrell. All the others, Nolen, Gunzel and company are gone.

With Carrier Mills it's a different story. Only two of last year's starters are back—Harold Fitts and Vern Rollins. But seven of the first ten are available for action this year and these five — Jim Rouse, Lawrence Coffield, Lewis Williams, Richard McNew and Carl Manier—played in the tourney championship along with Fitts and Vern Rollins.

Missing is top-scorer Oliver Rollins and starting guards James Reid and J. C. Stormes.

Joining with the seven returnees on the Wildcat team is Jack Cowger, 6-1 forward with considerable experience, who dropped basketball about midway in the 1955-56 season.

Carrier Mills has compiled a fine 23-1 record. Shawneetown has won 3 and dropped 19.

Although Vern Rollins has taken over the scoring leadership formerly held by his brother Ollie, it's the scoring balance that makes Carrier Mills tough. Anyone of the five starters is likely to have a hot night.

The unofficial totals for the season show Rollins with 452. Harold Fitts is in second place with 316. A blanket will cover the next three. Coffield has 270, Rouse 265 and Cowger 240. Three of the boys have played in all 24 games, Fitts missed one and Cowger was out of three with a bad ankle.

All five starters have had "big" nights, with Cowger's 30 points representing the individual high point production. Rollins had two 29-point games, Fitts' high mark is 25. Rouse's best was 23 and Coffield's top mark was 18.

Included in Carrier Mills' 23 victories are three over Rosiclare, only black marks on the Rosiclare record. CM also owns two of the five defeats handed Norris City this season.

In tournament play the Wildcats have captured two first place trophies, taking their own invitational meet and the fourth annual Saline County Tournament.

Shawneetown, with an inexperienced crew, has had a hard row to hoe, winning three and dropping 19. The victories were over Grayville, Crossville and Mills Prairie. The last mentioned was particularly sweet as it came on the night of the crowning of Basketball Queen and was accomplished by terrific last quarter rally.

Topping the Shawneetown attack is Captain Bob Stewart, lone returning regular from last season. The veteran guard has accounted for 375 of his team's points.

Other high scorers are Glendal Shell, 281; James Cox, promising freshman, 186; Delbert Cutrell, 134; Donnie Nolen, 106; and latecomer Charles Monroe 73. Monroe joined the team the second semester.

Athletic fortunes come and go. Shawneetown just doesn't appear to have it this year, following two of the most successful years any team could have.

Of the four first round games of the Norris City regional, the one that all seem to agree on is that Carrier Mills will take the first one.

Rue Starr, editor of the Norris City News, wrote a lengthy column in his Thursday, Feb. 27, edition and came up with predictions on all games of the tourney. He may have been just a little "home town conscious" but he gave the championship nod to Norris City, definitely one of the better teams in the meet and capable of causing trouble for most anyone.

Wanted to mention this because if Norris City does win it is only fair that Starr takes his proper place at the head of the "predicting" group.

Starr sees Carrier Mills over Shawneetown, Ridgway over Eldorado, Norris City over Equality and McLeansboro over Harrisburg in the first round. Then he picks Carrier Mills over Ridgway and Norris City over McLeansboro in the semifinals and Norris City over Carrier Mills in the championship game.

Got to give Starr credit. He went right out and put it down in black on white.

The tourney starts tomorrow and continues through Friday night. See you there. Everyone have a big time and BE A GOOD SPORT.

Complete Plans For Season Play in Coal Belt League

Plans for another season of the Coal Belt League—baseball for teenagers — were completed in a meeting held at Herrin Sunday afternoon.

The league has operated for the past two or three years and is recognized as one of the better organizations for the promoting of baseball among teen-age boys.

Nine southern Illinois towns were represented at the meeting with only one of last year's members—Anna—failing to put in an appearance.

Three towns made application for membership in the league, but there was only one opening and this vacancy was offered to Eldorado, one of the three applicants.

If Eldorado completes plans to become a member, the 10-team league will be comprised of Marion, Herrin, Du Quoin, Benton, Murphysboro, Carbondale, Christopher, Pinckneyville, Harrisburg and Eldorado.

Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Jim Campbell, Herrin, president; Vern Lewis, Benton, vice president; Harold Biggs, Marion, secretary-treasurer.

League play is scheduled to get underway May 19. Five of the teams will have lighted parks and part of their games will be played at night.

Michigan State Guns for Undisputed Title in Clash With Michigan Tonight

CHICAGO. — Michigan State goes gunning tonight for its 11th straight victory and undisputed possession of the Big Ten basketball championship in a clash with arch rival Michigan at Ann Arbor.

A victory would give the Spartans an 11-3 record in the final standings and bear out Coach Fordy Anderson's early prediction that such a mark would be good enough to take the title.

It would be the first championship for the Spartans since they joined the conference basketball race seven years ago.

The Spartans, staging one of the most exciting comeback campaigns in conference history, made Indiana their 10th straight victim 76-61, Saturday night.

Clinch Share of Title

The victory clinched a share of the title for the Spartans and earned them the right to represent the Big Ten in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. tournament at Lexington, Ky.

The Big Ten champ will begin NCAA tourney play March 15, meeting the winner of a first-round contest between Miami (Ohio) and an at-large team. Although the race could wind up in a three-way tie for first, Indiana as last year's Big Ten team is barred as a repeater and Ohio State is under a disciplinary ban.

A Michigan State victory tonight would give Anderson's crew the title regardless of what the second place Buckeyes and the Hoosiers do.

Indiana and Ohio State, each with 9-4 records, can share in the championship cake in their final games tonight. The Hoosiers entertain Illinois and the Buckeyes play at Minnesota.

In other games Iowa is at Purdue and Northwestern is at Wisconsin.

Quiggle Scores 23

The Spartans unleashed a crushing second half offensive sparked by sophomore Johnny Green, Jack Quiggle and Larry Hedden to knock Indiana full game behind. Quiggle got 23 points, Hedden 22 and Green 13 in the balanced attack. Archie Dees, the Big Ten's scoring ace with a 25.5 average,

BUFFALO GRASS

By Frank Gruber

Copyright 1956 by Frank Gruber. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: The first herd of Texas cattle arrives in Pawnee City, Kan., and success seems assured for Chad Morgan and Joe Jagger, partners who built the town.

The stockcars rolled into Pawnee City four days later, by which time 9,000 Texas longhorns were grazing on the lush buffalo grass both north and south of the railroad tracks.

Behind the stockcar train, came a special passenger train of two coaches. From it spilled a horde of people. Cattle buyers, laborers, carpenters, gamblers, thieves and a few speculators and businessmen. And bill collectors. Morgan was in the ample hotel lobby when the train passengers began coming into the hotel. The only furniture in the lobby was a rough plank "desk." On it was a ledger in which Jagger had started to list the expenditures of the Pawnee City enterprise and given up when he no longer wanted to know exactly how much money he was spending.

A stout little man, in a sober business suit and wearing a derby, was the first arrival at the hotel. He stopped just inside the door and looked around. "Aren't you open for business?"

"We are," said Morgan, "if you don't mind sleeping on the floor." "The floor?"

"Our furniture hasn't arrived yet."

The stout man scowled. "Any other place around here a man can sleep?"

"Sure," said Morgan cheerfully. "The prairie. And it won't cost you a cent."

Two men came in from the street, then three in a group. All carried luggage.

Morgan said to the stout gentleman, "Rates are two dollars a day."

The man still scowled. "How about blankets? Sheets?"

Morgan shook his head. "Washbowls?"

"Bare walls, that's all."

The man took two silver dollars from his pocket and tossed them on the "desk." "All right," he said with ill grace, "I was expecting to rough it out here, but—"

He was crowded aside by the new influx of potential guests. He fought his way back to the desk. "My key!"

"No key," said Morgan. "What room?" bleated the first guest.

"Any room," said Morgan. "It's first come, first served."

A woman suddenly appeared. She was wearing a green traveling suit, a bonnet with a green feather and she carried a green carpetbag that matched her dress. She went around the crowd and stepped behind the desk.

"Hello, Mr. Morgan," she said coolly.

"Miss—Miss Jagger!" exclaimed Morgan. "Joe didn't tell me you were coming."

Helen smiled at him and turned briskly to the waiting guests. "Yes, gentlemen. Our rates are three dollars for single rooms, five dollars for double."

"I've been asking two," Morgan whispered.

She shook her head. "That isn't enough." She thrust the pencil at a guest. "Sign here, please."

The man shook his head. "Uh-uh. I'm here to see Mr. Jagger."

"I'm his sister," said Helen, "and this is his partner, Mr. Morgan."

"Morgan, eh? Guess you'll do." The man reached into his pocket and brought out a folded sheet of note paper. "I've got a bill here against you for $9,648.80."

The man drew out another folded paper from his pocket, a legal-looking piece. "If you don't pay up, I hand you this. An attachment."

"Jagger," said Morgan. "He takes care of the bills."

"Well, let him take care of this one."

A second derby-hatted man moved forward with a piece of paper in his fist. "He can take care of me at the same time. Allington Hardware Company. Two thousand, three hundred—"

"Six thousand, six hundred for me," a third man sounded off. "And I got a judgment."

"I'll go and find Mr. Jagger," said Morgan.

He found Joe Jagger up the street, trying to sell a lot to a red-faced, perspiring man. "Five hundred dollars!" the man was saying. "That's too much for a measly little piece of ground."

"What kind of business were you thinking of starting here?"

The man hesitated. "Well, I ain't quite decided yet."

Joe Jagger nodded. "In that case, the lot will cost you seven-fifty."

The real-estate buyer glowered at Jagger. "Now, look here, Mister—"

"You're a speculator," Jagger said coolly. "I figure to do all the speculating round here. I want legitimate businesses right now—and the price of this lot is five hundred if you get started building right away. If you're not building, the price is seven hundred and fifty . . .

"Mister," said the red-faced man angrily, "I ain't liking it—but I'll give it a whirl. . . I'll take these two lots here."

Jagger shook his head. "Two lots to one buyer brings the price up . . . to two thousand—" He winked at Chad Morgan.

The red-faced man suddenly closed his mouth and took a fat bill-fold from his pocket. "Here's your money. Just give me a receipt."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

People save money in the strangest ways. They will spend dollars in transportation to save pennies at a sale of merchandise which they may not need. It seems to be human nature to want short cuts.

In our spiritual dealings with God we seem to want short cuts and bargains. We offer to make small sacrifices if God will answer our prayers in accord with our desires. We rush to God when we think some great benefit is available.

When all seems to be well and we have no need for a miracle we give God little attention. God does not offer salvation and peace of mind on a bargain table. We must pay the full price of repentance to be eligible for God's gift of eternal life.
